

Anglia Ruskin University, Cambridge

UKIAFT

Friday 17th May 2019

Time	Location	Activity
10:00	Science Atrium	Registration, Tea & Coffee
10:30	SCI105	“New Psychoactive Substances: A medical professional’s perspective.” David Solomon, Senior Lecturer, Advanced Nursing Practice, Anglia Ruskin university.
11:00		“Synthesis and analytical, pharmacological and risk profiling of synthetic cannabinoid receptor agonists (SCRAs) in a street drug and prison context. Current situation and horizon scanning.” Dr. Craig McKenzie, Forensic Drug Research Group, Centre for Anatomy and Human Identification, University of Dundee.
11:30		“New tools for target and suspect screening in forensic analysis.” Marcus Chadha, Agilent Technologies
12:00	Science Atrium	Lunch
13:00	SCI105	Investigating knowledge, perception and experience about Drug Facilitated Sexual Assault. Dr Lata Gautam, Senior Lecturer, Forensic and Investigative Sciences, Anglia Ruskin University.
13:30		Brexit threatens the UK’s ability to tackle illicit drugs and organised crime: What needs to happen now for forensic science and toxicology units? Andres Roman-Urrestarazu MD PhD, Clinical Research Associate - Institute of Public Health Cambridge
14:00		“The Future of Forensic Toxicology.” Dr Simon Elliott, Consultant Forensic Toxicologist, Elliott Forensic Consulting.
14:30	Science Atrium	Tea & Coffee
15:00	SCI105	Business meeting (UKIAFT members only)
16:30		Close of meeting